

CACN Annual Fred Andermann Lecture at CNSF Congress

Terms of Reference (March 2022)

- Part of CACN Day.
- Annual recognition – A certificate will be provided.
- The person should be someone who has contributed significantly to child neurology in Canada and/or their contributions suggest the potential future impact on child neurology to be significant.
- The person should be working in Canada and a CACN member; this recognition will not be restricted to a person at a particular stage of career.
- The person chosen to give this lecture should be someone who has already confirmed to present during CACN day - lecture/lecturer chosen will be related to topic of CACN day.
- Selection process: CACN day organizers/CACN board (treasurer, VP, President) recommendation, which will require support by the board.